

Current and Future Best Practices for Evidence-Based Information Seeking for Nursing

Matthew Weirick Johnson, MSLS

academic.mattweirick.com

MS in Library Science

Graduate Certificates:
Health Communication
Health Disparities

BA in English

Community Workshop Series Coordinator
Research & Education Library Intern

Evidence-Based Practice

Ability to use evidence to inform clinical decision-making

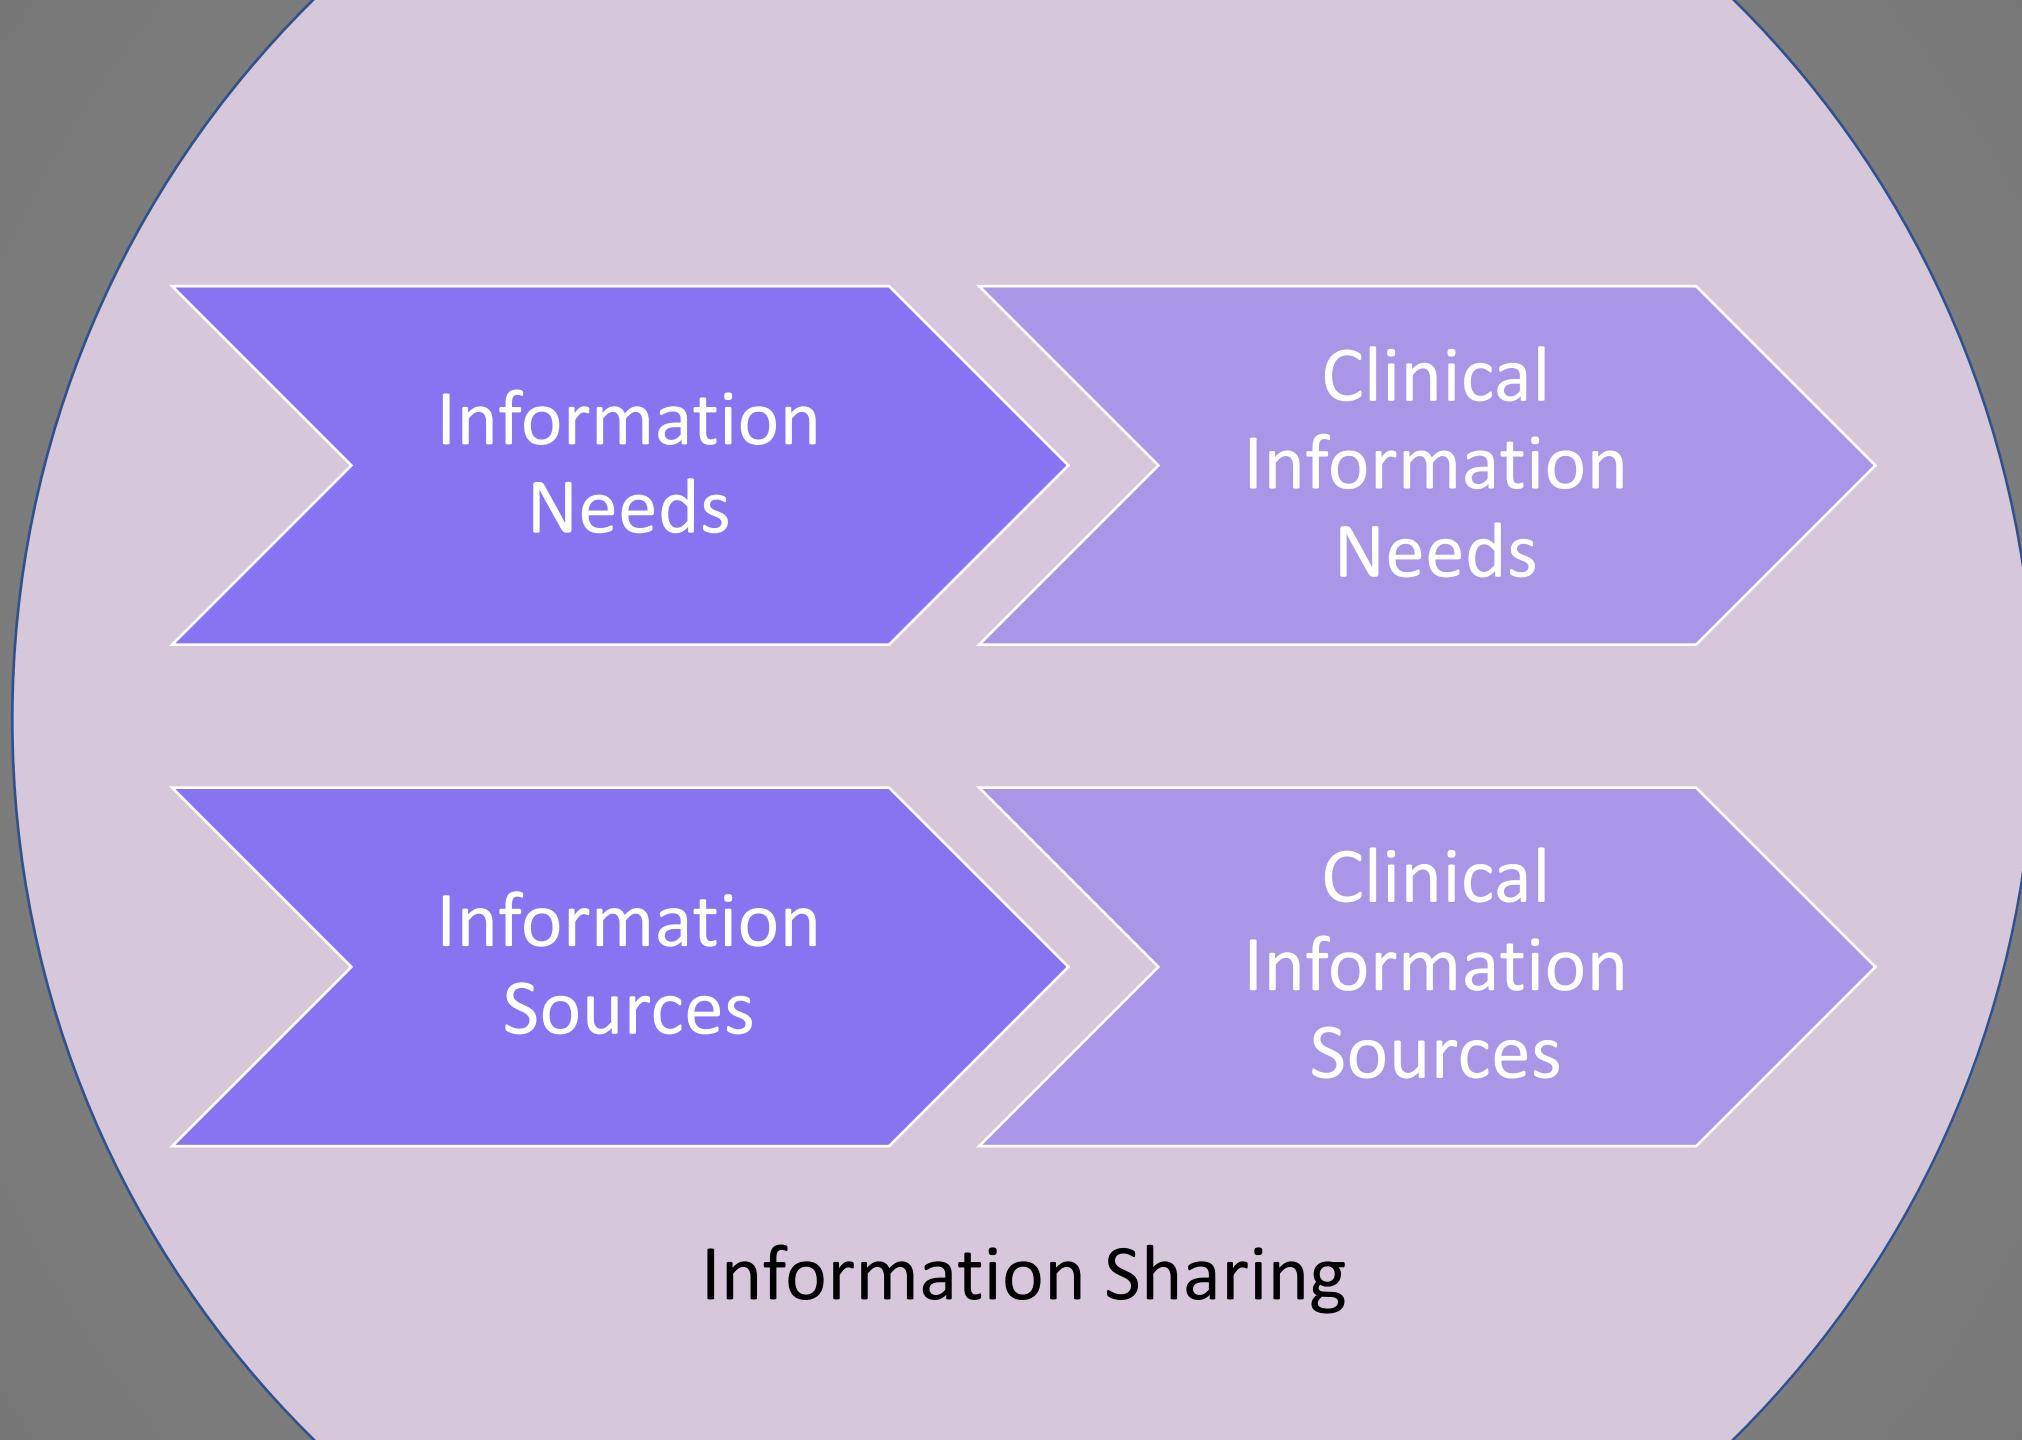

Evidence-Based Info Seeking

Ability to find information to support evidence-based practice

Information Literacy

Ability to find, evaluate, and use necessary information

Information Sharing

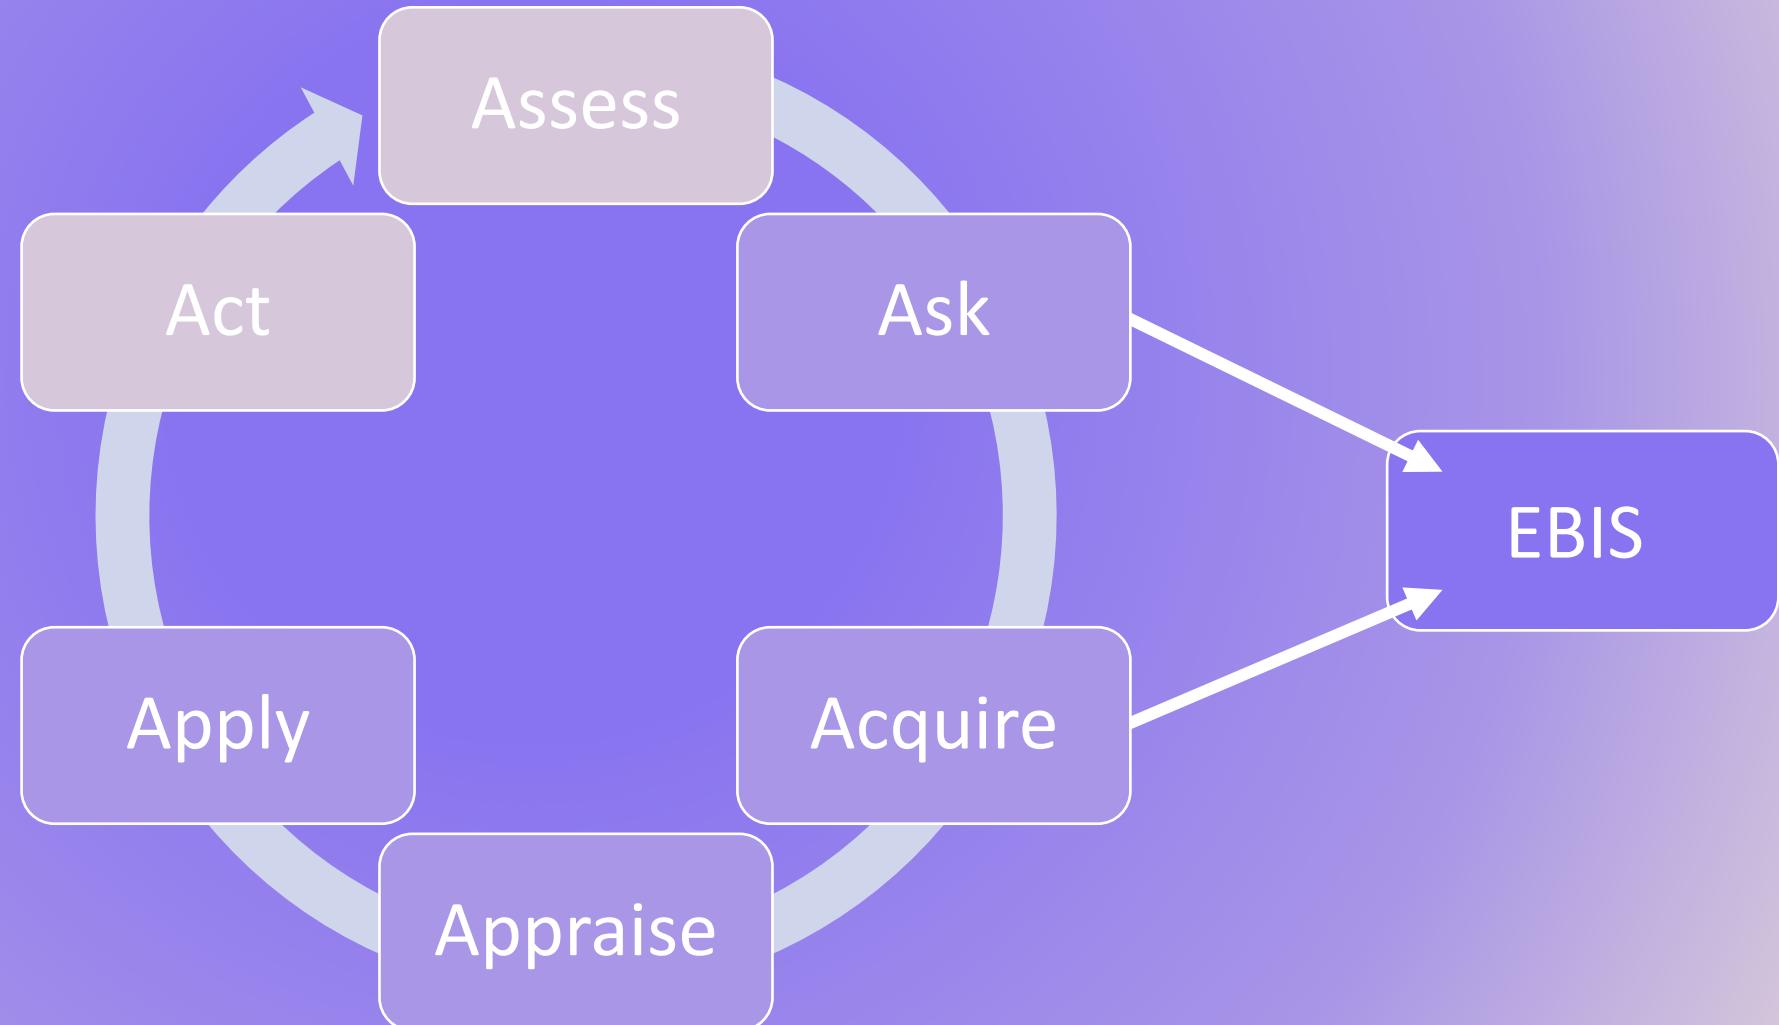

Social Ecological Model

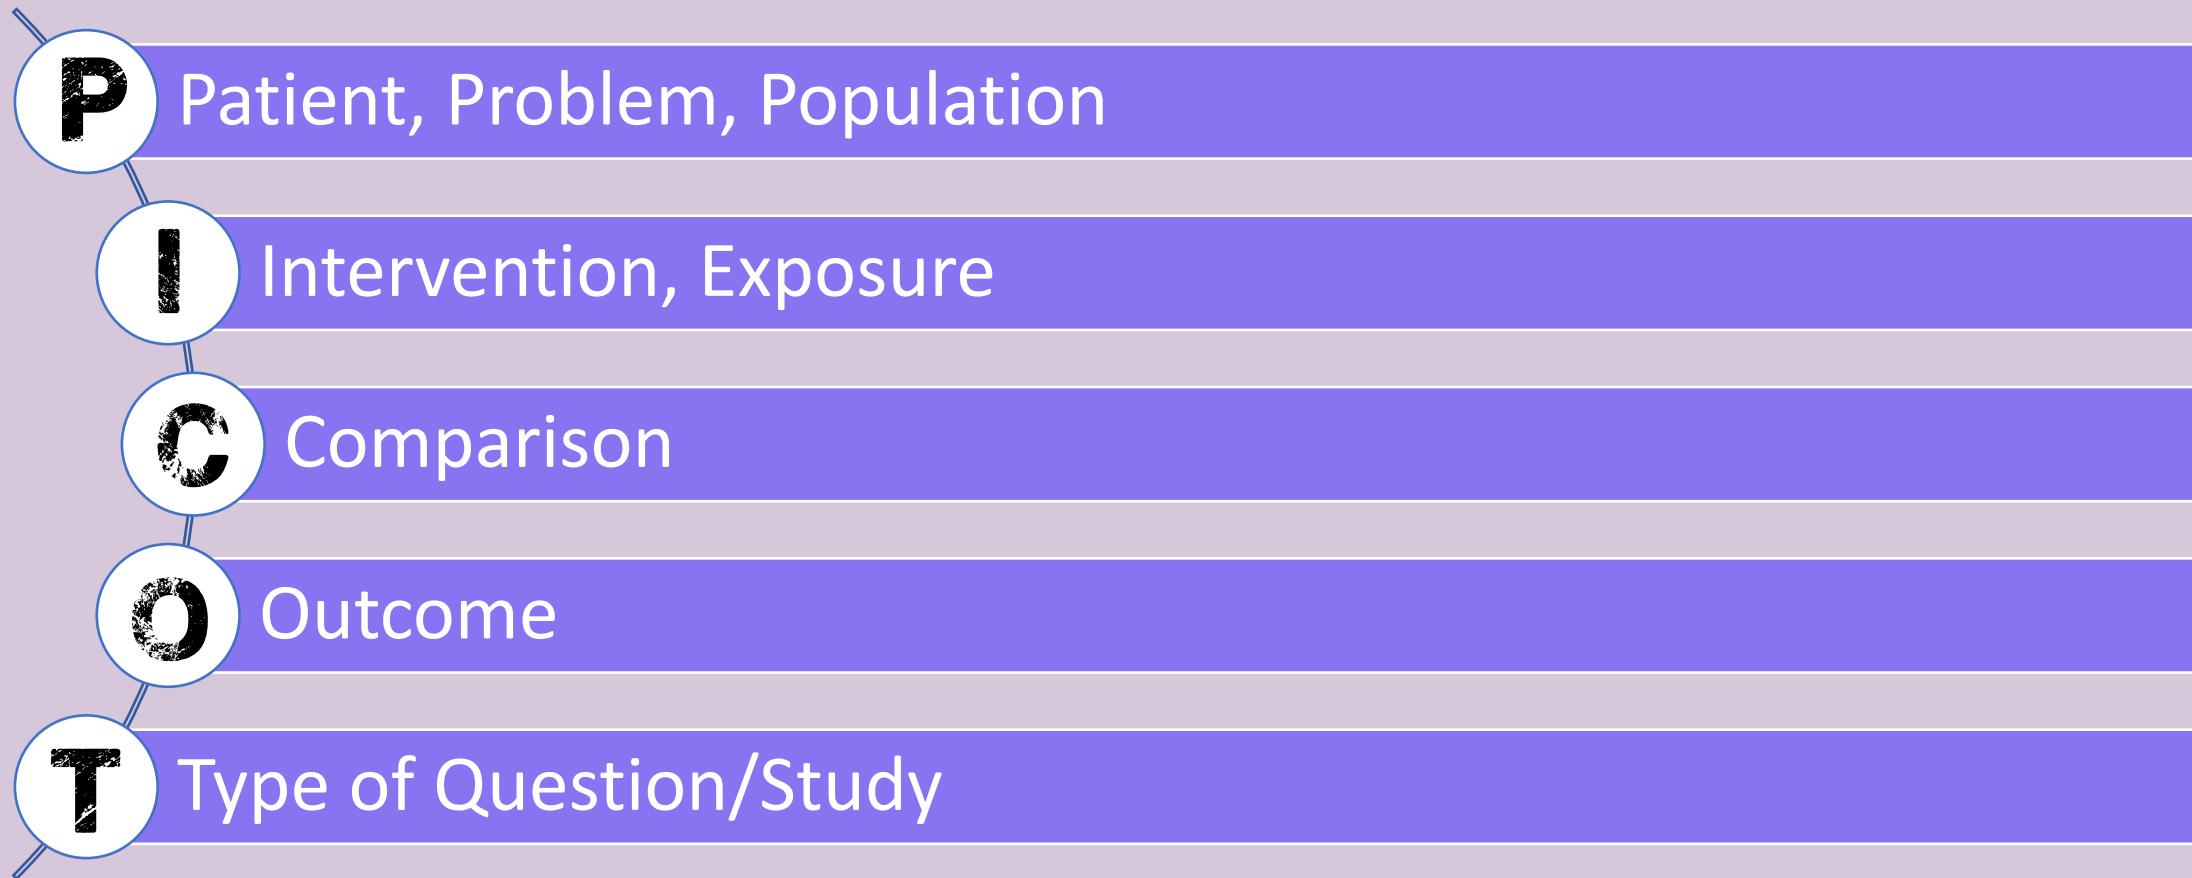

Why EBP?

- Patients receiving best possible care based on most recent knowledge
- Decreased procedural pain
- Increased caregiver confidence

EBP Model

Ask

Evidence-Based Tools for Every Situation

- Up-to-date, Dynamed
- ClinicalKey for Nursing, CINAHL, Lippincott Procedures, PubMed
- Browzine

EBP, Appraisal, & Information Literacy

- Evaluating methods & results
- Evaluating searches used in systematic reviews/meta-analyses
- PRISMA Checklist
- Evaluating authors & publishers
- Evaluating applicability
- Evaluating bias
- Decision-making in light of inconsistency
- Evaluating limitations

Barriers to EBP in Clinical Settings

- Limits on time
- Access to resources
- Emergency settings
- Time to publish
- Unaware of or misunderstanding EBP

Disseminate

Assess

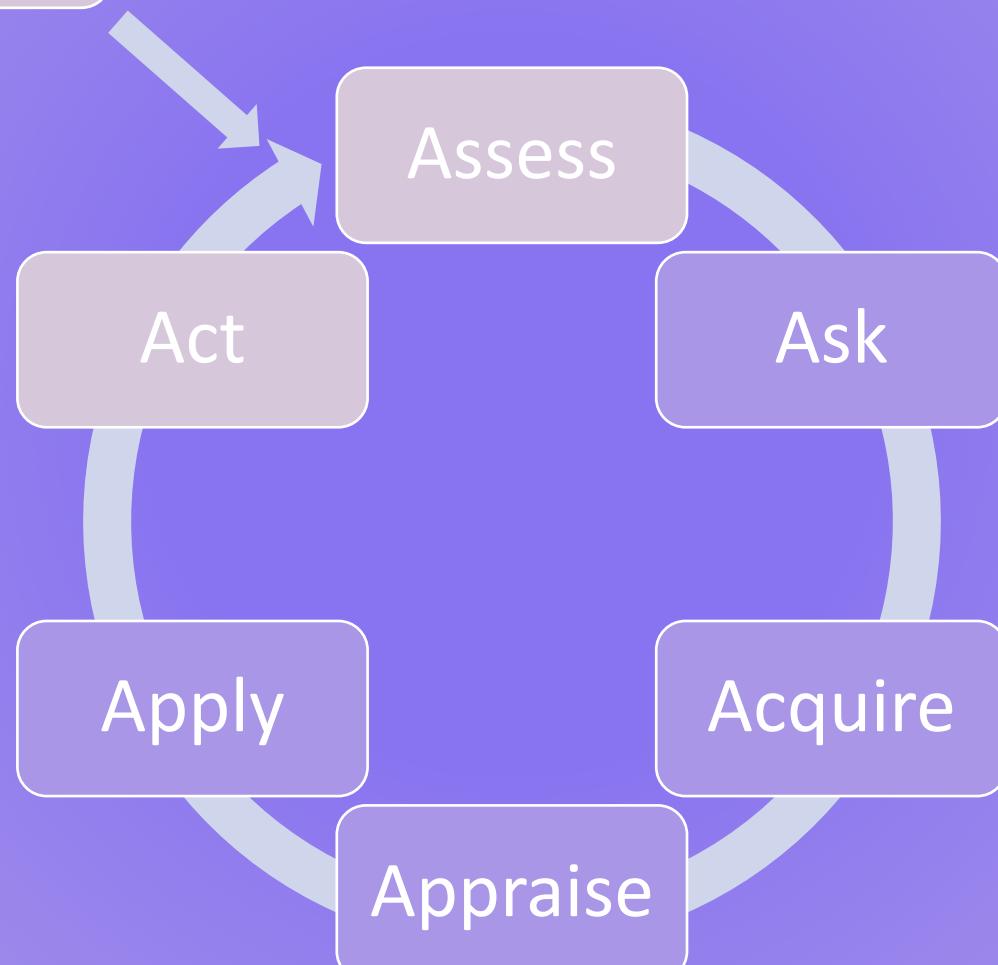

Act

Ask

Apply

Acquire

Appraise

EBP & Patients

- Assessing a Patient
 - Patient Values & Shared Decision-Making are in the final step
- Counseling a Patient
 - Patient Values at the forefront
 - Patient Education & Health Information Literacy/Behaviors
 - Patient experience as evidence/patient advocacy

EBP & Research

- Knowledge Synthesis (collecting & sharing information)
- Original Research (identifying and filling knowledge gaps)
- Foundational Information (e.g. guidelines, policies)

Building EBP through Nursing Research

- Developing of Guidelines
- Writing systematic review & meta-analyses
- Presenting talks, conference papers
- Data management and sharing

Teaching from an EBP Standpoint

- Include EBP and IL in the curriculum
- Include EBP and IL across the curriculum
- Demonstrate searches and the process of information-seeking
- Demonstrate effective information behaviors

M

Matthew Weirick Johnson

🌐 academic.mattweirick.com

✉️ matt@mattweirick.com

📄 academic.mattweirick.com/files/au-presentation-20181009.pptx

🔗 academic.mattweirick.com/talks/2018-10-09-au-presentation